President Tells Callers the Present Situation Should Not Be Prolonged.

M'KINLEY IS CRITICIZED

In Executive Session of the Senate Bearing On the Peace Treaty-Hoar Says the President Should Take the Senate Into His Confidence.

Washington, Jan. 27 .- The president talked with a number of callers from congress yesterday about the peace treaty. He expressed his satisfaction that an agreement had been reached for a vote, and expressed confidence in the result. The president told his callers there was need for prompt action and said that the present situation was one that should not be prolonged. Senators Gray, Lodge and Lindsay were among the senatorial callers.

Senator Gorman raised the point that the resolution had been adopted several days since and addressed the senate at some length on the failure of the president to respond to the senate's request for information.

The attack of the Maryland senator was followed by similar speeches by Senators Vest and Hoar, and they were replied to by Senators Spooner and Platt. The five senators engaged in a running debate, the opponents of the treaty contending that the senate was entitled, as a part of the treaty-making power, to all the facts bearing upon the case, and the supporters of the document holding that the president could withhold any papers which he did not consider in the interest of the general welfare to give out. Senator Hoar contended for his original proposition, that the senate was entitled to the president's full confidence in passing upon a question of so much importance as the acquisition of territory thousands of miles from our own shore and with millions of people totally unlike our own population. He thought there must be some reason for putting the Philippines on a footing so different from the footing on which Cuba had

The friends of the treaty profess increasing confidence for ratification, but there is some talk of adopting a negative resolution to the effect that the treaty does not bind the United States to the adoption of a colonial policy.

Amendment Offered to the Appropriation Bill to Pension Confederates. Washington, Jan. 27.-As the senate seemingly was about to conclude consideration of the pension appropriation bill late yesterday, Mr. Butler (Pop., N. C.) offered his amendment, announced some time ago, providing for the pensioning of ex-confederate soldiers. Upon this he took the floor and delivered a speech which, as he proceeded, developed into a most unexpected utterance. While his colleagues on both sides =

If mothers would cast aside foolish prudery, and impart to their daughters the knowledge that they, themselves, have acquired by years of suffering, they would be forced to spend fewer hours of anxious at-tendance at the bedsides of sick daughters. She cannot be a happy wife or the mistress of a happy wife. happy wife or the mistress of a happy home. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only proprietary medicine ever devised by an expert skilled specialist in woman's diseases for the one purpose of curing these troubles in the privacy of the home. It makes a woman strong and healthy in a womanly way, and can be relied upon to relieve motherhood of all peril and almost all pain. It insures healthy, robust children. It transforms weak, sickly, nervous invalids into healthy, happy wives and mothers.

"Words fail to describe my suffering before I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Pleasant Pellets,' "writes Miss Lulie S. Hardy, of South Seabrook, Rockingham Co., N. H. "I could hardly walk across the room. I had an abcess on the fallopian tube that discharged through the bladder. It left the bladder in an irritable condition and the uterus inflamed. I had an awful burning in my stomach; no appetite, wasting drain; constipation; excruciating monthly pains and backache all the time. I was confined to my bed five months. Then I conmenced the use of your medicines and have been greatly benefited by them."

He declared that the south was right and that history would so record, and that every shot fired by a southern soldier was fired in defense of the rights of his state conferred by the constitution, in self-defense and in defense of his home and fireside.

Mr. Bate (Dem. EAGAN TESTIFIES

Made a Favorable Impression Before the Courtmartial.

Washington, Jan. 27.-The feature of the proceedings before the Eagan courtmartial yesterday was the testimony, dramatic in many parts, in its quiet intensity, of Commissary General Eagan himself. Not more than 15 or 20 people outside of the court and a dozen or so mitted to the trialrooms. Several wit-of General Miles' aspersions on him he raised his voice somewhat and spoke with great earnestness, though with perfect enunciation. In speaking of the criticisms of the newspapers, which he said had been called forth by General Miles' testimony, his maner was very dramatic and impressive. His eyes filled with tears and his voice trembled, and the impression he left with many was decidedly favorable. After the court adjourned several members shook his hand and in a friendly way asked after his

THE state legislature is having a hard time trying to solve the convict labor problem. There is one thing upon which all are agreed however, and that is that the convicts in the prisons should be employed in some way. It is a refinement of cruelty that is not justifiable to compel these men to spend the time in idleness, to say nothing of the growth of vice that such a condition fosters. Further, the state does not owe anything to a criminal further than to protect him in what rights he has not already forfeited by his crime, and there is no reason why he should not be compelled to earn his living while he is being kept by the state. PHILIP WILHELM, P. M.

A Railroad Employe's Views. Editors Republican: In answer to

The Commercial Travelers as Man on the Road, in yesterday's REPUBLICAN: As to the proposed legislation on railroad fares, there seems to be a diversity of opinion. There is just cause for this diversity of opinion. The writer goes on to state that many claim it would cause reduction of wages of the employes, and such is most likely to occur. We (the railroad employes) would be compelled to do with less of the necessities of life, clothing, house furnishings, etc., that you commercial travelers have for sale. If there is no demand for your goods you will not be wanted to travel for the different houses. Your firms will reduce the r force of salesmen in accordance with the demand. Moreover you are on salary and expenses. Take it in our city of Seymour, our business men depend to a large extent upon the railroad men for their support. Watch them about pay day and see the vast into their coffers; money they have earned at the risk of their lives. With it they purchase articles you sell to our stores. I want to say right here that the railroad men believe in having the best that money will buy and your business men will bear me out in this statement. Yes, and they use more of it, too. Another thing, do not think the railroad man is not posted. Every one you may have the pleasure to meet can talk on any subject of the day, and Alpha Cox, per bill.... ninety-seven per cent belong to the Chas. Able " different railroad societies in the United J. T. Rosson, 14 days......21.00 States, Canada and Mexico.

The writer goes on to compare the railroad companies with this great and grand government of your Uncle Sam's in regard to the reduction of postage and reduction of car fare. Now let us use a little good judgment and bear in mind that a railroad company is composed of a number of good, sound thinking and taxpaying citizens, the same as any corporation which em ployes commercial travelers; and then for the commercial travelers to demand that the government shall make a law to reduce the price that these railroad owners set and denand for transportation, whether it be an ordinary citizen with an umbreila and a small hand bag and occupies one-half of a seat and pays business of somebody, and the problem three cents per mile or it be a commercial traveler that wants to go over causing other passengers to stand, and er. The petition was referred to the growl about having so pay a two cent city attorney. rate per mile and not even caring for ployes to transport him. You must remember that railroads are conveniences established and maintained for the travare places that are established and maintained for the convenience of the purchasing public who have the price,

The commercial traveler does not even consider that if it is fair to demand the legislature to make it a law to reduce car fare, that it is just as fair for the railroad employes to demand the legislature make a law to reduce the price of groceries, clothing, furniture, fact, any article that requires a commercial traveler, to prices to suit the consumer. I think it a poor rule that will not work both ways. I furtherassociations and ticket scalpers. I also wish to state while I have every respect Thousand have tried Dr. Cadwell's for a commercial traveler (having a up poor argument on this subject, and would recommend that they, the commercial travelers, reconsider. Rallroad Fares are Reasonable. Legislatures in different States are from time to time urged to tinker with passenger tariffs on railways and enact a law compelling a general charge of two cents per mile. The current rate s three cents, but the average falls beow that owing to concessions granted preciate the convenience and comforts provided by the railways will not consider a three-cent fare exorbitant. The present charge for a twenty mile ride on a railway will not pay for horse hire for such a trip, to say nothing of the time required for an overland journey and the discomforts of muddy roads and inclement weather

DANGER IN CALCIUM CARBIDE

Rules Governing Its Sale in New York, Liquefied Acetylene Gas Prohibited.

Suderinten lent Murray of the Bureau of Combustibles, has made regulations governing the transportation, storage and sale of calcium carbide, which the firemen declare to be a source of danger in a burning building, because when water reaches it acetylene gas is given off. A number of stores keep it for use in bicycle lamps. Hereafter, in transit or on storage, it must be inclosed in hermetically sealed iron receptacles marked 'Dangerous, if not kept dry.'' No package may contain more than 100 pounds. It must be stored in isolated buildings that are fireproof and waterproof. No artificial light or heat will be permitted in the building where it is stored. Not more than twenty pounds, in bulk or in carttory, and this must be in a fireproof safe or vault above the street grade and it must be kept six inches above the

The manufacture, transportation storage, sale or use of liquefied acetylene is absolutely prohibited within the limits of this city .- N. Y. Sun.

LETTER FROM OUBA.

Arthur Blue Writes of the Boys in Hav-

Havana, Cuba, Jan. 25, 1899

EDITORS REPUBLICAN: Having a ew eisure moments, I will give you a description of our camp. We are located about four miles from Havana, on a green hillside directly overlooking the ocean from which comes a fine breeze On the north side of our camp are the ruins of an old castle. On the south side is a large pineapple plantation and orange grove, which the boys frequently visit. To the west is the small town, Mariana, where the boys get that horrible stuff called Coniac brandy. And one drink will get the best of any of them. All about are old ruins and odd-shaped houses. "Just outside of the town near an old ruined tower is an old cannon made in the year 1500 It is certainly a curiosity.

To the east about a mile from camp s a Spanish grave yard. One never forgets the sights after a visit there. The place is surrounded by a high stone wall and is divided into two parts, one side for the rich and the other for the poor. If a person dies who has money enough to pay for having a grave dug, he is buried on the side of the rich But if a poor man died and cannot afford a grave, he is put into any sort of s coffin and thrown into a large pit There are hundreds of skeletons piled one on top of the other, while the buzzards fly about the place continually of Indianapolis, Elinburg being the waiting for a fresh body to be thrown into the pit.

I have seen in some of the papers that there is small pox in the 161st There is nothing worse than measles and there are not over fifteen men in the hospital. All the boys from Seymour are well and send their regards. Dr. Gerrish is well and is in high favor with the boys. He has a great warm heart in the right place. Well, the boys are having a fruit feast and I can't help joining them, so will close for the present. ARTHUR BLUE.

Indianapolis, Jan. 27.—Consideration of the bill to reorganize the state board of education attracted considerable attention yesterday afternoon, and a large attendance of people interested in the fight between the nonstate colleges and the state educational institutions list-of the governor, the state superintendent of public instruction, the superintendents of the city schools of Indianapolis, Evansville and Fort Wayne, and the heads of Perdue, the State Normal and the State University. The nonstate college people have claimed that they were ignored by the state college men on the board, and that students from the smaller colleges who applied for teachers' licenses were subjected to petty discriminations on the part of the board. Senator Hogate provided in his bill that three members of the board should be appointed by the governor, and later favored the amendment by Senator Newby that all six of the members (excluding the governor and superintend-
